APRIL IS NATIONAL POETRY MONTH. Today's poem for April 18, 2017 is an excerpt from a longer poem about how doing our best gives purpose and meaning to our lives. Are there lines that might also describe you in some way?

To be of use
By Marge Piercy

The people I love the best jump into work head first without dallying in the shallows and swim off with sure strokes almost out of sight. they seem to become natives of that element, the black sleek heads of seals bounding like half-submerged balls.

I love people who harness themselves, an ox to a heavy cart, who pull like water buffalo, with massive patience, who strain in the mud and the muck to move things forward, who do what has to be done, again and again.
