APRIL IS NATIONAL POETRY MONTH. Even though today, April 28, 2017, we are at the end of National Poetry Month, remember that poetry is meant for all seasons and times. Please continue to read, write, and enjoy poetry as one of life's pleasures! Don't be afraid of reading poetry—it is meant to be "eaten"!

HOW TO EAT A POEM
by Eve Merriam

Don't be polite.
Bite in.
Pick it up with your fingers and lick the juice that may run down your chin.
It is ready and ripe now, wherever you are.

You do not need a knife or fork or spoon
or plate or napkin or tablecloth.

For there is no core
or stem
or rind
or pit
or seed
or skin
to throw away.

High School Students:

"The Gardening Club will meet in B202 today, not T101. Arrive by 4:05 if you plan on participating and to get your name on the snack list. Otherwise, be sure to get on the bus immediately after school." (4/28 Mr. Romer)
