Rho Kappa Social Studies Honor Society presents This Day in History

Saddam Hussein, the former Iraqi dictator, is captured by the U.S. army after nine months spent in hiding. Since the 1980s, Hussein had been engaged in the 8-year war with Iran, the bombing of his own Kurdish people, the terrorizing of Iraqi citizens, and the alleged possession of chemical weapons. After his capture, he was sentenced to death by hanging in 2006. (Greco 12/13)

New Items:

Preuss Model United Nations announcement to develop "Good Global Citizens": Yellow Vests Protest "In France, thousands of demonstrators wearing yellow vests have taken to the streets in protest. People are furious at the rising fuel prices, high costs of living, and the carbon tax and the cuts to the solidarity tax on wealth passed by President Emmanuel Macron. The poor and lower middle class have been especially hit hard by these developments since they cannot sustain themselves and their families after paying taxes and bills. What began as a peaceful protest in November, has erupted into a nationwide riot, with 4 million Euros of property damage, thousands of people injured and arrested, and a total of 4 civilian deaths." (Boquiren 12/13)

Attention Ecology Club members, this Monday (12/17) after school we will be hosting our officer elections in A103. ¡Oye, Oye!

The Spanish National Honor Society is selling "Love a Llama" and "Who's Your Llama" pins in order to help a South American family in need. Our goal is to buy one llama for one family by December 21st. Pins will be sold in front of Walton Center during middle and high school lunches for a one-dollar donation.

So, why do we buy a llama?

Llamas are prized for their warm wool, which can be made into blankets and clothing and sold at markets to buy things such as medicine and books. Llamas are the only animals that can withstand the harsh conditions of the Andes mountains and because they are soft footed animals, they don't ruin the family's crops.

All students, teachers and staff are invited to contribute to the gift that changes lives!
(12/18 Ms. Zamora)

Senior Package will be sold Dec. 17-20th, 2018 during high school lunch. This will be the last sale of the year. If you want to buy other senior merchandise that is not included in the Senior Package you may do so. If you have any questions ask any of your ASB senior representatives. (Romer 12/21)
