Rho Kappa Social Studies Honor Society presents This Day in History

Five U.S. Navy Avenger aircrafts known as Flight 19 depart from Florida for a training mission, but never returned. Radar stations were able to determine Flight 19's position somewhere between the Bahamas and Florida, and launched the Mariner aircraft to search for Flight 19. They too disappeared without a trace, adding to a total of 27 men lost. Thus, initiating the legend of the Bermuda Triangle. (1945) (Greco 12/5)
