Rho Kappa Social Studies Honor Society presents This Day in History

The League of Nations is established in Geneva after the Covenant of the League of Nations is ratified by 42 nations. The idea was presented by Woodrow Wilson in his Fourteen Points to achieve peace after WWI. Although proposed by the American delegate, the League of Nations failed to ratify in Senate and the organization later dissolved in 1946 due to its ineffectiveness and failure. The League of Nations set a precedent for the United Nations. (1920) (Greco 1/10)
