Good morning. Today is a part of National School Counseling Week. The message today is about your aspirations. Aspirations are defined as a hope or ambition of achieving something. We sometimes call them stars – things you are reaching for. Sometimes aspirations, like stars, can seem so far away that they can't be touched. But that doesn't have to be your reality. Aspirations can be anything you want them to be. A career choice, a personal wellness goal, an academic goal, anything. If you could list one or two things you would like to achieve, what would they be? A wise man once said, "Your aspirations are your possibilities." If you ever want to chat about your "stars" or aspirations, feel free to stop by and talk to your school counselors. Live with purpose today! (Resendez 2/6)
