Rho Kappa Social Studies Honor Society presents This Day in History:

On this day, the US Supreme Court made their decision in the Sanford v. Dred Scott case. Dred Scott was a slave who sued for his freedom because he lived in Wisconsin, a free state, with his master until his master died. However, the Court ruled against this, stating that Scott was not considered a citizen under the Constitution, and therefore could not sue in court. This case contradicted the Missouri Compromise, highlighted the government's stance on slavery, and further inflamed the division between the North and South that would eventually lead to the Civil War.
