New Items:

The Birds are squawking! Can you hear them? The birds are circling! Can you see them? Save your hoodies and hair!! Throw your trash and leftovers in the trash cans. And don't forget to stack your trays. (Ms. Agliam, 9/9)

Students: If you need to change your bus route or bus stop, please make that change with Mrs. Villanueva BEFORE 4pm and PRIOR to trying to get on another bus. (Ms. Agliam, 9/9)

Nami on Campus:

September is National Suicide Awareness Month. Each day for the next couple of days we will be asking a true or false question to raise awareness to this very important topic. Here is today's question: True or False? People who talk about or threaten suicide rarely die by suicide. FALSE! Many times people who are thinking about suicide make statements or threats about it. People who talk about suicide are thinking about it and should be taken seriously. Even if they are not suicidal, it is obvious that they are not happy. We need to ask questions and find out what is going on in their lives. They are desperately asking for help. Here is a resource you or someone you know can access: Access and Crisis Line (888) 724-7240 (Torre 9/3)
