Nami on Campus:

Here is the True or False Question for Suicide Awareness month. True or False? People who are contemplating suicide will often tell someone beforehand. TRUE! Four out of Five completed suicides gave "clear warning signs" before the attempt. People contemplating suicide may say something like "I'd be better off dead" or "You won't have to worry about me much longer." Many times someone may tell you and ask you to keep it a secret. We must tell our friends that this information is much too important to keep a secret. Do not promise you will keep it a secret. We must remember that the only reason they are telling us is so we will help them. We must be willing to risk our friendship to a save a friend's life. People get over anger, but death is permanent. We must get a responsible adult involved immediately. On the Preuss campus we have many people who care please remember we have peer counselors, advisory teachers, and your school counselors available to help at any moment. Please reach out!
