Emergency Family Stabilization Initiative

Immediate support for students and families impacted by immigration enforcement

Students Without Limits is offering a new emergency support resource for students and families experiencing an immigration-related crisis. This program is designed to help schools respond quickly and compassionately when a parent, caregiver, or primary wage earner is detained, deported, or otherwise directly impacted by immigration enforcement.

What This Program Provides

Eligible families may receive a one-time emergency stabilization grant of up to $200 to help with urgent basic needs in the immediate aftermath of a crisis.

- Food or groceries
- Gas or transportation
- Phone or communication access
- Hygiene items
- Clothing or school supplies
- Other urgent basic needs

When to Refer

Please reach out if a student or family is facing an urgent need because a parent, guardian, caregiver, or primary wage earner has been detained, deported, or otherwise directly impacted by immigration enforcement.

How It Works

1. Speak privately and compassionately with the student or family.
2. Contact Students Without Limits or complete the referral form.
3. SWOL reviews the referral and coordinates approved assistance as quickly as possible, with a goal of responding within 3 business days when feasible.

Confidentiality

Family privacy is extremely important. Personally identifying information will not be shared beyond what is necessary to process the referral and support the family. Reporting about this program will use aggregate, non-identifying information only.

Important Note

This is a limited emergency support program. It is not ongoing financial assistance, rent support, legal representation, or long-term case management. When appropriate, Students Without Limits may also help connect families with additional resources.
